My Scentsy business fits in with my life/family.

I love that I can work from home with my Scentsy business. I have 2 adorable little helpers and one adorable big helper. My husband and sons are part of my Scentsy business and your family can be part of yours as well (as much as you want them to be). We have build our Scentsy business so that I can stay home with my boys and in April of 2017, my husband was able to transition out of his job and come work the biz with me. We have never been happier. I understand that this may not be the path for everyone. However, that is the beauty of Scentsy. You can make your own path and work your business how you want to. Scentsy can fit into your life, career and family!

Personal Growth

Running a Scentsy business will provide you with unlimited opportunities for personal growth. I have developed in so many ways as a result of my Scentsy business. We have countless online training opportunities, conventions (we call them Scentsy Family Reunions), training phone calls/video calls, team training events and so on. Best of all, we are a community of Scentsy sisters who thrive on each others success. We love and support each other. I have so many dear friends that I have made because of my Scentsy business.

Are there any sales requirements for Scentsy Consultants?

You must generate sales resulting in 200 points or more in PRV in at least ONE month within any contiguous 3 month period. Pay close attention here, you have to have the 200 points in the same month so you could have 200 PRV points in January and then 0 points in February and March and then have 200 again in April. However, if you have 199 points every month, you will be deactivated. Please call me at 520-981-5251 or email me at buyandsellwithchristy@gmail.com if you have any concerns.

What is PRV?Jared2018-03-27T22:53:48-07:00

What is PRV?

PRV or Personal Retail Volume is the point value of commissionable products you sell. PRV is a global point system convertible to local currency using a price/earnings to growth ratio. So, in simpler terms $1 of product equals 1 PRV point, $20 equals 20 PRV points, $200 equals 200 PRV points, etc.
