

Scentsy has great gifts for a baby shower!!!

We all go to baby showers from time to time and we all buy gifts for the expecting mother.

As a mother of two, I really appreciate when people buy things from the registry. There is so much that a family needs and a baby shower is awesome in helping with that.

However, I also know that months later, I can't remember who gave what with all of the presents. Well, did you know that Scentsy has some great gifts for babies. The family will definitely remember you if you give one of these. They will think of you often.

Scentsy Sidekicks

Moms and babies will love the crinkly legs, teething rings and knee socks that move up and down. Also includes hands that attach to car seats, strollers and more. Scentsy Sidekicks are scented with Jammy Time. They are adorable and they smell great.

Scentsy Buddies

We also have the ever popular Scentsy Buddies. They are limited edition stuffed animals that have a little pouch to place a Scent pak of your choice (included). A newborn may not play with this as much but they will love them when they are a little older. The scent pak also helps with the odor that comes from a child's bedroom. I can assure you of that. I should clarify that these are not recommended for children under 3 to play with.

Clearance

I should also mention that you may want to check our clearance section. That's always a good idea. You can find products that have been discontinued but they are still great and you can save some money. I got my sons Scentsy Sidekick on clearance.

We have several other Kids products, including Warmers and Wax. We have even more coming in the new catalog in September like Blankie Buddies and more so please come back and see us.
