

Have you seen the Calavera Scentsy Warmer?

I just wanted to put up a post about the Calavera Scentsy Warmer. It's one of my favorite Scentsy Warmers. Check out the pics below. If you are not familiar with the Calavera, it is a Mexican Sugar Skull. These intricately decorated sugar skulls are used in celebration of the Day of the Dead (Dia de los Muertos). HERE is a link to an interesting page that I found, if you are interested in learning more about that. This page will explain it better than I can.

Notice the difference in the pictures when the warmer is on vs. off. See how it glows when it's on. I also want to point out that the Calavera warmer has a top that goes over the wax dish. You can see that the top has holes in it so the fragrance is not trapped.

I grew up in New Mexico and I am fluent in Spanish. I have a great interest in Mexican culture and people. These Sugar Skulls are one unique part of the Mexican culture. I know live in Tucson Arizona where we have a huge Dia de los Muertos celebration every year. The Calavera Scentsy Warmer is very popular here in Tucson.

Believe me, I know that the Calavera may not suit everyone's tastes. Luckily Scentsy offers soooo many amazing and beautiful warmers.

However, the Calavera was so popular that Scentsy made a Calavera Mini Warmer as well. CLICK HERE TO CHECK IT OUT.
